Happy New Century to All!

I must start out with an apology for neglecting to make special mention of the early December meeting date. It was noted in our annual calendar and mentioned in a couple of newsletter articles, but I should have reminded you at the November meeting and in my front page article in big letters. I forgot, so did the editor. We're sorry. I hope no one showed up at JFK on December 21.

We did have a good turnout at the December meeting so most were informed. There was more delicious food than anyone could eat. The grab-bag exchange was fun for everyone. Quite a few New Years Resolution quilts were displayed at Show and Tell with the "finishers" receiving a variety of fabric squares held together with a quilt pin. (There were also a lot of Resolution quilts NOT finished so the brand new century begins with some old projects still hanging around.)

Much interest was shown in the ways of restoring and preserving quilts and other fabric items as explained by our speaker, Muffie Austin, from the Textile Conservation Workshop. You will find information elsewhere in the newsletter on how to order acid-free paper and storage boxes if you wish to use them at home.

Thanks to everyone who helped make ornaments for the Putnam Hospital's Festival of Trees. The tree was beautiful and the lovely crazy-quilt skirt was the perfect final touch. We need someone to take over this fun project next year. Speak to Pat Baker or to me if you are interested.

The December newsletter had directions to follow in the event of meeting cancellation due to bad weather. Remember to save those directions.

I hope you are working on your Challenge. It's crunch time for that. January meeting deadline, or shortly thereafter by special arrangement with the committee.

See you January 18, the first meeting of the year, of the decade, of the new millennium.

Hospitality

Thanks to all the members who helped to make the December meeting so special and so delicious. We received such a tremendous variety of treats. Comments overheard included "it's a groaning board" and "there's so much to choose from." With such generous contributions of snacks, the hospitality table is a fun, welcoming and tasty place to congregate before the meeting.

For the January meeting we are asking folks whose last names begin with the letters G, H, I, and J to bring in something to share. As always we'll have the coffee and tea ready. Please try to remember your mugs! See you there.

Joanne

Just Where Do We Get That Acid-Free Stuff?

After last month’s meeting with Muffy Austin from the Textile Conservatory many of you wanted to know where to purchase acid-free paper or boxes. Well, we have that information for you. Just contact University Products in Holyoke, MA at 1-800-532-9281 or 1-800-628-1912. They sell papers by the sheet and also individual, unassembled boxes in various sizes.

For those of you who inquired about UV shades, you can contact Solar Window Shades at 1-800-220-2525.

The American Blind & Wallpaper Factory also sells custom pleated shades with metallized fabrics to protect your furnishings (mainly our quilts) from UV rays fading. They can be contacted at 1-800-575-9012 or try their website at www.abwf.com.

Quilt Block Contest

The theme for this year's block contest is: "Little Green Things." The block must measure an accurate 12 1/2" square, including seam allowance. Do not bind or finish the edges! Use prewashed, 100% cotton fabric. Your block must contain a "green thing."

All entrants will receive one of our beautiful show pins and the finalists will receive fabric packets. The finalists' blocks will be assembled into a quilt top which will be awarded in a random drawing to one of our finalists.

The deadline for submitting your entry is March 1, 2000. No exceptions! Entry forms will be available at the monthly meetings.

Boutique

Opportunity is knocking. The Quilt Show is coming in May and what a chance to show our visitors and other Guild members your creativity. You can make several items or just that one special technique you wanted to try out.

Remember, the main emphasis is that the item should be made of fabric and should be made by you. Guild guidelines will appear in the coming issues of the Newsletter. Did you know you could also make some money doing this?

Quilt Show — Works in Progress

Just a reminder about our Works in Progress display. If you don't finish your quilt in time for entry, or if you have anything that is still unfinished, be it a quilt, wallhanging, etc., there is a place for it at the Show. We want everyone to know what we are about and this is a great showcase for the tremendous volume that we as a Quilt Guild can put together.

The Really Big Show...

There are only four short months until the World of Quilts XXI and it's time to start thinking about how you can help. Many new members may not realize what an enormous undertaking the show is. There are over 400 manpower hours (AKA quilter hours) needed during the show to make the World of Quilts XXI run smoothly. If each of our 300 plus members worked just two hours we'd be in great shape. Many of the jobs are simple but they are all interesting. The following is a brief description of each job on the Volunteer Chart to help you decide which jobs you would like to do.

Judging of the Quilts: This takes place the Wednesday prior to the show at the Lincolndale Clubhouse. Professional judges judge the quilts while volunteers hold and fold the quilts and write down the judge's comments. (This is a very educational job.) Volunteers must be able to scribe as well as hold and fold. You get to be up front and personal with the quilts.

Boutique: Guild members may sell handmade items at our show for the small fee of volunteering any two hours at the show. Volunteers are needed to set up on Friday evening and sell items on both days.

Quilt Frame Setup: This is so organized that even kids can help, so quilters have no trouble putting those pieces together. This is a very important job. The quilts can't go up until the frames are framed. It's a wonderful way to introduce your husband and teens to the World of Quilts.

Quilt Hangers: The quilt acquisition committee needs help climbing ladders and hanging first the muslin...then the quilts. You get to touch without anyone scolding.

Pot Luck Supper: After several hours of work, everyone is hungry. Our show is famous for our great potluck supper. This section on the chart is for the crew to set up, serve, and clean up the feast. This is NOT to volunteer to bring food. Kathy Miller will have a sign up sheet at a future meeting.

Information Booth: In the center of the lobby is our information booth. Mostly people ask important questions such as, "Where's the bathroom?" or "Where are the quilts?" (You get to sit down for this job.)

Admissions: We have two admission entrances and need several volunteers there at all times. Volunteers collect money, stamp hands, hand out programs and talk. (You also get to sit down and it's lots of fun meeting all the people coming in.)

Lecture Monitors: We have three lectures each day.

Volunteers are needed to man the entrance doors and to help the lecturers as needed. This is a very popular job since you get to hear a lecture while fulfilling your volunteer time. Therefore, we request that each member not sign up to work at more than one lecture. Of course, you may go to as many lectures as you choose.

Raffle Table: We sell about 5000 raffle tickets for our quilt. Volunteers are needed to sell tickets. Basically, this is a money-collecting job.

Quilts in Progress: This room has quilts in various stages of completion. This job entails sitting in the room, working on your project and answering questions from the public. (You get to do something you love while fulfilling your volunteer time.)

Quilt Watchers: These volunteers are our Show Hostesses. They wear white gloves and can show the quilt backs to interested people. While no experience is necessary, this is an extremely important job. Your job is to keep the quilts from being handled.

Perimeter Display: This year we will be displaying a collection of antique quilts. Your job will be to monitor this display. You will be answering questions about the collection and keeping the quilts from being handled.

Quilt Take Down: Volunteers are needed to take down the quilts in an orderly manner and verify the ownership.

Quilt Frame Take Down: What goes up, must come down! Volunteers are needed to take down the muslin and the frames. (You could be free all weekend to enjoy the show and just work on Sunday evening. Husbands, sons, daughters are most welcome.)

So quilters, whether you are an old or a new member, we really need your help, and any members of your household as well. Every job is essential to making the show the success it has always been. And it's a bargain. For just two hours of volunteer time, you will receive one free admission for that day. This offer is not transferable. If you work your two hours on Wednesday or Friday, you will receive the admission day of your choice. Four hours on one day will also get you a second day pass. What better way to have fun and spend time with other people who share our love of quilts and quilting. Let's work together to make a World of Quilts XXI the quilt show that sets the standard for the new millennium.

Volunteer Chairperson

March 25, 2000

Super Saturday is almost here. In January, we will be registering for the seven classes. Registration starts at 6:45. You will need to have the following items with you:

1. $15 (cash or check made out to NSQG).
2. SASE so we can mail you your workshop assignment, supply list and map.
3. Refund policy: Fees are refundable if we get a replacement for your spot, or on stand-by or the class is cancelled.
4. Classes are assigned on a first-come, first-served basis.
5. Don't forget to indicate your alternate choices.

Samples of the work to be taught in the classes will be on display.
