A Message from the President

Welcome back to Northern Star! I hope everyone is looking forward to our first meeting of the year. There will be a speaker, a One Woman Show, a chance to see the Library while all of our wonderful books are on the shelves, tasty snacks and show and tell from everyone's summer quilting retreats. Most of all it is exciting to see friends after the summer vacation.

The new Board met for the first time in June and we are all honored and enthusiastic about the prospect of planning your meetings for the coming years. It is a diverse and talented group of members that will be representing you. I am really looking forward to getting to know and working with each of them.

We are dedicated to giving you even more education, entertainment and quilting opportunities for the same dues dollar in the future. We strive to do this by developing better relationships with other guilds and quilt-related businesses, creating new ways to raise revenues for programs and being more creative in how we plan our budgets.

This Special Issue of On Point is our first major step in controlling cost. We hope you enjoy having this pull-out section with the outline for the whole year's activities in one place. All the programs, the workshop schedule, dates for meetings and activities, and reference information are contained within. Please save it as shorter, more detailed-oriented newsletters will follow throughout the year. Mark all these dates on your calendar, send in the membership form with your dues and be ready to join us for another great year of fun, fabric and friendship.

Museum Report

Rumors circulating over the summer about the New England Quilt Museum closing its doors are untrue. The Director of the Museum was eager to get back to us to confirm they are not closing! She did add that funding is tight for all museums now due to serious cuts in federal funding for the arts.

Fifty of our lucky members will be visiting the NEQM on their way to The Quilters Gathering in November. (See the On the Road article on page 3 in the Special Issue.) Several of our members have work hanging there right now in the Fiber Revolutions exhibit.

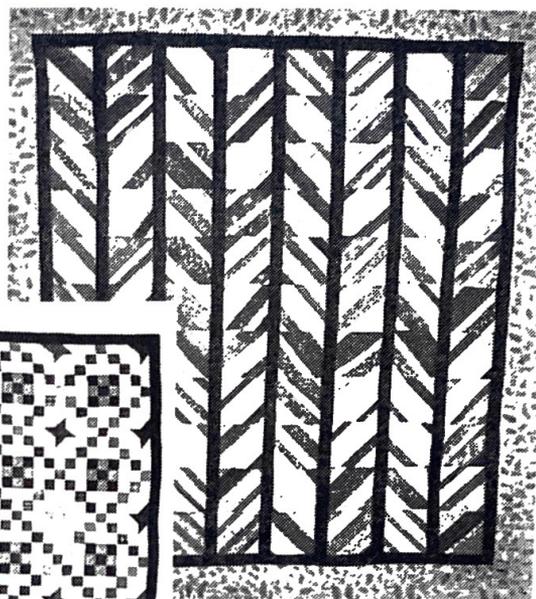

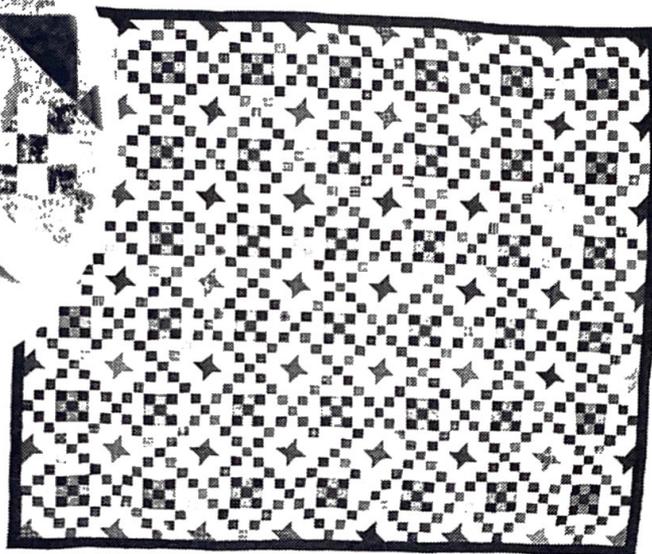

Joining the museum as a Member Guild is a tremendous bargain at $15.00! Teacher and Service Directories, free passes, access to IMAGES class brochures, the online Quiltfun newsletter, and the Museum newsletter are some of the benefits that we will receive.

The closing of The American Textile History Museum, also in Lowell, MA, was reported in Quilter's Newsletter Magazine. However, recent reports are that the ATHM has accepted a $1,000,000 challenge grant from an anonymous donor to keep limited hours until a capital campaign or relocation can be explored.

The American Folk Art Museum will again be hosting their Annual Quilt Weekend October 1st in New York City. We have taken part in this event for the past several years as it is a great opportunity to handout membership material, quilt show flyers, and to sell quilt raffle tickets. There will also be a free lecture about the collection of quilts recently donated to the Museum by the estate of Cyril I. Nelson. Please let me know if you would like to help represent NSQG at this event.

September's One Woman Show: Susan Rooks

My quilting obsession began quite serendipitously. In 1988 I was looking for an art gallery and was misdirected to a quilt shop. I took this as a sign that I was supposed to learn to quilt. I had sewn clothing before but greatly disliked the hand work of finishing garments. I had also done cross stitch, knitting and crochet, but was never totally enthralled.

My first quilt class was a hand pieced fan – it is still not finished – and ever since then, I have been hooked. After the class, my teacher was forming a guild and I also became active in that guild.

I served as Membership, Program Chairman, did the Newsletter, and eventually became President for two years. During those years, three area guilds got together and decided that the time was right to have a quilt show. I got involved with that effort doing such jobs as Hostess Scheduling, Vendor Co-Coordinator, Treasurer and President.

I started hand piecing and hand quilting, not having a very good machine. I found I had too many ideas in my head to continue hand work, so for my birthday, my husband surprised me with a good machine and I was off on new adventures.

I helped organize a statewide quilting association in Florida and became the founding Treasurer. I enjoyed meeting quilters from around the state at the quarterly meetings and one of those members moved to New York and we are still members of the same small quilting group.

Being so involved in organizing and promoting various groups, my UFO pile built up to an almost insurmountable number. Then, good news – my husband got the opportunity to have a great job in Connecticut. We had never lived north of the Mason-Dixon Line, so we looked on this as another grand adventure.

Quilting has helped me adjust to my new home and a completely different environment. I joined NSQG and immediately felt a warm welcome. I also had much more free time to work on those pesky UFOs. I finished some, but have added others, so the number remains pretty much the same.

I enjoy rotary cutting and machine piecing. I send most of my quilts to a long-arm quilter to be finished. Much to my surprise, I find that I really enjoy sewing on the binding. I think appliqué is very beautiful and my fondest hope is that someday I will learn to like doing the actual appliqué.
